

THE NEW ALBANIAN BREWING COMPANY

Lew Bryson

NABC'S 2013 SESSION SERIES

Lew Bryson's "The Session Beer Project" exists to promote the brewing, provision, and enjoyment of session beers. They are:

- ▶ under 4.5% alcohol by volume
- ▶ flavorful enough to be interesting
- ▶ balanced enough for multiple pints
 - ▶ conducive to conversation
 - ▶ reasonably priced

In brief, low-alcohol, but not low-taste. The great thing about session beers is that you can enjoy more than one, with less fear of an inflated BAC. If you really like drinking beer, session is the way to go!

The Session Beer Project was started in 2007 by beer writer Lew Bryson for two reasons. First, to spread the word about session beers so more people could enjoy them. Second, to better Lew's chances of finding good session beers to drink.

NABC couldn't agree more. In 2013, think Session Beer.
